VOL. 1. ELKHORN, MANITOBA, NOV. 24, 1892. No. 7.

Whether the embargo put on importation of Canadian cattle into the British markets shall continue in force or not is still under discussion. The genuineness of the actual existence of pleuro-pneumonia seems to be a matter of doubt even amongst the experts who have made examinations of the cases which have led to the prohibition of our live stock, it being declared by some that it was nothing more than bronchical pneumonia of a non-contagious nature. The British farmers, however, apparently became so alarmed that they urged the advisors of the board of agriculture that the evidence was sufficiently strong to show the existence of the real pleuro-pneumonia to issue the prohibitory order. It seems somewhat doubtful whether there was any justification for pursuing this course, but as the order has gone forth, Canadians have no alternative, but to acquiesce in the inevitable. That there is a certain amount of sympathy felt for us in certain quarters in London may be gathered from the reports contained in some of the leading journals which regard the action of the authorities unfavorably. The London Chronicle says it has "grave doubts of the wisdom of the course of the mother country to use her strength in cases of uncertainty for the purpose of striking a cruel blow at a colony such as Canada which is loyal and valuable." While we appreciate this kindly expressed solicitude for our welfare, it is evident that dear old England is looking at the matter as a purely business affair apart from all sentimentality. Is there not a possibility of Canadians also treating the question on a business basis and setting their shoulders to the wheel to make the best out of adverse circumstances? and who knows but we might be the gainers in the long run by having to stall and fatten our own cattle here before shipment to English ports. This would mean at least the consumption of a large quantity of home produce, and would give an impetus to increased production of fattening stuffs, and, even if we were compelled to slaughter all our cattle before exporting, it might not be an unmixed evil, possibly it would be a material advantage of which we have under existing circumstances little conception. Whatever may be the outcome of the present action of the British officials, it is for those interested in the raising of cattle to put their heads together to devise some means to meet the existing prohibitory order and accommodate themselves to the altered circumstances of our relationship in this respect to England.

It is satisfactory to notice that there is a steady increase in the number of European immigrants to Canada, and though it is not as large as we would like to have, still we must be thankful for past mercies, however small, and hope for a greater increase in the near future. We see no reason why the maximum increase for the coming year should not be increased ten-fold. There is nothing of more importance in connection with the development of the resources of this dominion of ours, than a vigorous immigration policy, judiciously carried out.

In connection with the question of immigration, we notice that Miss Bird, an English lady of philanthropic inclinations, desires to establish a home in Winnipeg, similiar to homes that she has established in the eastern provinces. We believe that this lady is engaged in a great and noble work, and should receive every possible inducement to continue her efforts in this direction. We see nothing to prevent the establishment of such a home in some part of the province, which could be carried on, on the self-supporting principle after getting a fair start. A colony in itself, under proper supervision, should be the means of doing inestimable good. We need not be selfish, there is room enough for all. We want immigrants that will help us in some practical way, more perhaps, by their hands than by their heads. From what we can learn, Miss Bird's prospective immigrants, are, on the whole, a class that would be of great benefit to the country generally, and judging from the results of the eastern institutions of this kind, there is no need to be shaking in our boots about the evil that might result from the establishment of such a home. On the contrary, we believe it would be of vast utility to the province commercially, apart from the philanthropic aspect of the question. Let us do our duty in the matter, and we shall see that in things apparently evil there is much good, if we only discerningly distil it.

The signs of the times in Germany point to the recall and restoration of Prince Bismarck, owing to the political crisis over the proposed Army Bill. A majority of the Reichstag are pledged to resist the measure, which inclines to the belief that the bill will be withdrawn, possibly at the last moment. This would make Count Caprivi's official position untenable with honor to himself. The Emperor is fully alive to the gravity of the situation.

WESTERN WORLD.

MANITOBA MATTERS—NORTHWEST NUGGETS—COLUMBIA CRUMBS.

Collected Carefully—Given Graciously.

WINNIPEG.

It is rumored that the marriage of one or two old timers will shortly be publicly announced.

Miss Emma Bill Buchan, who has for some time been on THE MIRROR staff, has gone to Brandon.

Mr. P. C. and Mrs. McIntyre have returned to the city from their honeymoon trip and taken up their residence on Kennedy street.

Bishop Pinkham, from the Western Territories, paid a short visit this week to the Metropolitan of Prince Rupert's Land, going home on Thursday.

A Mr. Grover Cleveland, who registered at the Manitoba on Wednesday last, created quite a little fuss, as some thought at first it might be the President-elect of the United States, but on enquiry it was found that it was not.

Rev. D. D. McKay, a graduate of Manitoba College, and Miss Mary Kerr were married by Rev. Jos. Hogg, in St. Andrew's Presbyterian church, on Tuesday, 15th inst. The bride wore a brown shot serge, beautifully trimmed with silk, and carried a bouquet of roses. The parties being popular, a large number of friends were present.

The residents of the metropolis of the west were more than pleased—fairly delighted—this week, upon the completion and running of the various lines of electric railway. For five cents one can now embark at the C. P. R. depot, on one of Manager Campbell's finely upholstered cars, and reach almost any portion of the city—go to the extreme southern point of Main street, away up Portage avenue; or round by the "loop" line, reaching Nena on Notre Dame or Logan streets.

The marriage ceremony of Mr. F. J. Russell and Miss Maud Stanbury which took place on Wednesday last in St. Mary's R. C. church, was a very pretty affair. The Rev. Father Fox was the officiating clergyman. The bride, who was exquisitely attired in a brown travelling costume of corded velvet, was led to the altar by Dr. J. K. Barrett. After a sumptuous wedding breakfast, partaken of at the future residence of the happy pair, they were driven to the N. P. station, where, amidst showers of rice, old slippers and many good wishes for long life, health and happiness, the happy young couple left for Chicago, where they will spend their honeymoon.

EAT PORTAGE.

R. J. Arbuthnot was in town last week.

Miss Mary West, Winnipeg, is the guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. A. McCrossan.

"The "Highland Maid" made her final trip this season to Rainy River and other ports last week.

The Foresters' social and hop in the music hall on Wednesday evening last was a grand success, both financially and socially.

Dr. Gunne, who has been practising for the past year with Dr. Scovil, left last week for the west where he will locate permanently.

Mr. William Ball, formerly of this town, but residing at present in Port Arthur, was in town last week in company with Mrs. Ball.

Miss Lizzie Hare who has been spending a year with her sister, Mrs. McDonald, of 4th street, returned to her home in Detroit, last week.

Ex-Governor Gilman, of Minnesota, returned to our town last week, having been to St. Paul to poll his presidential vote. Mr. Gilman is largely interested in the mines here.

Mr. Alex. Matheson, Hudson Bay Factor at Redrock, spent Thanksgiving day with his family here. Many of his old friends were pleased to see his genial countenance once more.

We are pleased to intimate that through the untiring efforts of Mr. P. Hobbs, the Chicago Lady Quartette will, on Dec. 19th, greet a Rat Portage audience. Everyone is anticipating a great treat.

Last Wednesday evening Mrs. Savage and Misses Margach gave an informal dance in the Victoria Hall. As the ladies have the honorary reputation of being charming hostesses it is here needless to speak of the success of the evening.

REGINA.

A brewery is to be started here.

Mr. J. J. Young, who has, for some time been with The Leader, has gone to Moosomin, where he takes hold of The Spectator — an amalgamation of the Courier and Journal.

The following resolution was passed at a recent meeting of the teachers of Assiniboia, Regina and Moosejaw: "Whereas it is probable that some change will in the near future be made in the School Ordinance, by which the Board of Education will be abolished: Be it therefore resolved that, in the opinion of this convention, it is desirable that the direction of educational affairs be placed under the supervision of a skilled educationist, or of a board or council composed of men having a practical acquaintance with the working of schools."

MOOSEJAW.

Marriages have been the order of the day recently. The following couples have been made happy in the bonds of holy matrimony: Mr. Arthur Holdsworth, C. P. R. conductor and Miss Annie McKnight; Mr. R. J. Brown, another conductor, and Miss Dora McDonald.

The annual harvest home supper in connection with the church of St. John the Baptist was a success.

Mr. R. L. Alexander, immigration agent, will remove to Edmonton.

METHVEN.

We are to have a licensed hotel.

H. Greenway has gone to Crystal City to act as station agent there.

Over 150,000 bushels of wheat have been marketed here so far this season.

PRINCE ALBERT.

We have an immigration committee here, and they are up to the times. Lately the idea was conceived of holding an exhibit of grain for handsome prizes, the object being to secure the very best samples in the section for the Columbian Exposition. T. McKay, M.L.A., secured first money; George Stansfield, second, and George Glaister third. All were good samples.

Our artist, Mr. O'Meara, has executed a very fine crayon drawing of His Honor, Mr. Justice McGuire.

The death is recorded of Mr. John Rogers, of Carrot River district, well known in this neighborhood.

A very successful bazar was held here a few days ago, in aid of the new and handsome Catholic cathedral. The gross amount realized was in the neighborhood of $500.

SUNDRY PLACES.

J. H. Hall has opened in jewelry at Oxbow.

J. H. Davey is opening a general store at Westbourne.

J. A. K. Drummond, grain, High Bluff, has assigned in trust.

R. F. Greer, drugs &c., Oxbow, has sold out to Harris & Tenmany.

A. Cates & Co., general store, Napinka, have sold out to H. A. McKinnon.

It is said that the Bank of Commerce will open a branch in Winnipeg next year.

A private bank has been opened at Grenfell, under the firm name of C. R. Tryon & Co.

The elevator at Balgonie is ready to receive grain. Its capacity is 30,000 bushels.

Jos. Finlayson, Indian agent at Snake Plain, has been transferred to the Touchwood Hills agency.

The stock of C. B. Burgess, cabinet-maker and furniture dealer, Virden, has been seized under chattel mortgage.

President Van Horne, of the Canadian Pacific, says that the "Soo" line will be completed by August or September next. The new line crosses the Great Northern at Minot and the Northern Pacific at Carrington. We expect, he says, to reach the latter point this year.

The privilege of fishing for the cheaper varieties of fish in lakes Winnipeg and Manitoba under domestic licenses has been extended from November 5th until December 31st. This will be a benefit to settlers living near the lake.

The Bishop of Saskatchewan and Calgary, during his recent visit to England, succeeded in raising only half the sum required for the Calgary Bishopric endowment fund, £5,000 out of £10,000.

ACCIDENTS, DEATHS, SUICIDES.

BELLEVILLE, Nov. 15.—Ann Shannon, an old resident, is dead, aged 75.

LANARK, Nov. 16.—Mrs. Jas. Trodden, one of the oldest residents of this country, is dead, aged 92.

TORONTO, Nov. 15.—Henry Melville Boddy, son of Archdeacon Boddy, is dead of typhoid fever.

PLATTSVILLE, Nov. 16.—Jas. Motherall, sr., is dead. He was a prominent Mason and one of the best known Conservatives in the country.

BERLIN, Nov. 15.—Civic Treasurer Stoole, of Monmel, who was awaiting trial for frauds committed in office, hanged himself in his cell in the jail to-day.

MONTREAL, Nov. 16.—P. T. H. Ermatinger, son of the late Lieut.-Col. Ermatinger, and clerk in the Montreal post office, died suddenly yesterday of heart disease.

RAT PORTAGE, Nov. 16.—Indians have reported the finding of the body of August Kjellgreen, a Swede, frozen near his house a few miles out on the lake.

FORT ERIE, Ont., Nov. 16.—Christopher Williams, while duck shooting, took a fit, and falling out of his boat was drowned.

LONDON, Nov. 16.—A dispatch from Tarragone, Spain, reports an outbreak of convicts in the prison at that place. Nine convicts were killed and sixteen wounded before the outbreak was subdued.

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Hugh Brany, a retired cigar dealer, worth $500,000, committed suicide to-day. He had been afflicted with brain trouble for some months past, and took his life while insane.

SAMACIA, Spain, Nov. 16.—A building in which a working party was celebrating an event collapsed, crushing and burying the merry makers in its course. Seven dead bodies have been taken out and thirty injured.

Since Mr. Cleveland became aware of the honor that has been conferred upon him he has completely shut himself in with his secretary, only seeing some few political friends. He has refused absolutely to be interviewed by the press representatives. Several rumors were of course afloat, amongst which was a report that he was preparing a statement of his policy which he would make public in a few days; this has all been refuted now by an authorative denial from his secretary, who states that Mr. Cleveland will not be heard from before March next. Meantime the President-elect is absorbing himself in the gigantic task of attending to the mass of letters that reach him daily, and lets the world wag along.

GENERALITIES GROUPED.

Accidents—Deaths—Fires—Incidents—Murders—Storms.

Cholera is reported to be again increasing in virulence in St. Petersburg.

Stephen Boichent, a middle-aged and apparently well-to-do Frenchman, cut his throat with a razor at Niles, Mich.,

The report that Lortl Roseberry is engaged to marry Princess Victoria, second daughter of the Prince of Wales, is unfounded.

Three persons were poisoned at Bradford, England, by eating canned Canadian lobsters, and the doctor has given up all hope of their recovery.

The census of the population of Japan has been published in the Official Gazette. The total population is 41,000,000, an increase of 300,000 over the last census.

A morning paper says that Senator David B. Hill, when he returns to Washington in December, will be a married man. The lady is stated to be Mrs. Fannie Iverson, of Atlanta, Ga.

Brewer and Bolton, the accountant and assistant accountant of the House of Commons, on a charge of having committed defalcations, have been suspended and may be criminally prosecuted.

Reports to hand from Cordoba give a most distressing account of the state of affairs there. Yellow fever raged with awful violence and carried away almost a thousand of the people of the town. Most of the inhabitants have fled to the mountains to escape the plague.

Jesse Sykes, an old farmer residing a short distance from Newport, Ind., who was subject to epileptic fits, went to feed a lot of hogs. As he did not appear to supper one of the members of his family went out to see what was the matter, and found that the hogs were tearing the old man's body to pieces.

A dispatch to the Reuter telegraph company, London, Eng., says the Leipsiger Nuete Nachrichten announces that while Emporer William was hunting in Saxony he met Bismarck. The two were reconciled, and, in course of conversation, Bismarck pointed out the dangers threatened by the new army bill.

Recent advices to hand go to show that Premier Abbott is not troubled with any chronic organic disease as he supposed, but was merely run down with work. On this account speculation is rife as to whether he is going to resign the premiership just now or not. The concensus of opinion inclines to the belief that he will not, and in this event Sir John Thompson, will be elevated to the chief justiceship.

The Inter-Ocean has the following from Pittsburg: A startling discovery was made to-day. The supposed priceless jewels and sacred relics owned by the Rev. Father Mollinger, and which are believed to have played such a prominent part in the thousands of miracles performed by the priest are frauds. It is now generally believed the miracles are bogus. Mr. Wright says: "I know everything in the chapel better than the furnishings in my own house. I built the altars and put the relics in position. Very little of the property is really valuable. The ornaments and the greater part of the relics are very cheap. They are mainly glass imitations, colored so as represent emeralds, amythests and diamonds.

NEW TARIFF OF FEES.

In the Land Titles Offices Under the "Old System" of Registration.

Since Nov. 1st the following is the new tariff of fees under the "Old system," payable to the various Land Titles offices in the province:

1. For the necessary entries and certificates in registering every instrument, other than those hereinafter specially provided for, including among such certificate, the certificate on the duplicate, if any, when the duplicate is produced at the time of registration, $1; and for registering every instrument other than those hereinafter specially provided for, $1; but in case the said instrument exceeds 800 words, then for copying, when copying is necessary, at the rate of 15 cents for each additional 100 words, or a fractional part thereof. And if any instrument, other than those hereinafter specially provided for, as aforesaid, contains more than ten distinct lots or parcels of land described therein, the sum of five cents for each additional lot or distinct parcel. No additional charge shall be made in case lands are in more than one municipality.

a. For filing a mechanics lien or a discharge thereof, $1.

2. For registering each certificate of judgment, or discharge of judgment, or certificate or payment of mortgage money, and every other certificate, including certificate of lis pendens, but excepting any other certificates otherwise especially provided for elsewhere, and including all entries, and certificates thereof, including the certificate of such payment on the mortgage or other original instrument, when there are only ten lots or distinct parcels of land mentioned and described in such mortgage certificate or certificate of lis pendens, and the said discharge or certificate including the affidavit or affidavits of execution or other proofs for registration does not exceed 250 words, $1; and for each additional 100 words or fractional part thereof, 15c; and for each additional lot or parcel of land the sum of 15c.

3. For the registration of any plan of subdivision or resubdivision, including all necessary entries connected therewith, the sum of $10, where the number of lots on such plan does not exceed 100, and for each additional lot on such plan 5 cents.

4. For each certificate furnished by the registrar, except those made under subsections 1 and 2, and those otherwise provided for, 25 cents (this charge to include any necessary search.)

5. Certified copies, each instrument, 100 words or fraction thereof, 10 cents; for each additional folio or fraction thereof, 10 cents

6. Abstracts: one distinct lot or parcel, 50 cents; and for each additional lot or parcel shown on same abstract, 10 cents, and a further charge for each entry appearing on any abstract, of 5 cents.

7. Certificates, G. R.: Each certificate of one name affecting lands in one distinct township or parish lot, 25 cents, and each additional name 50 cents. Certificate of execution: One name, one judicial district, 50 cents; each additional name, 25 cents.

8. Searches: One distinct lot or parcel, 25 cents, and each additional lot or parcel on the same registered plan, or in the case of a parish lot in the same parish, or in the same of a quarter section in the same township, 10 cents.

Searches, G. R.: Each name affecting one parcel of land, 25 cents. (This to include the production of the abstract books of such general registrations.)

Executions: Each name in each judicial district, 25 cents.

9. Production of instruments: One production, 25 cents; each additional production affecting same parcel of land, 5 cents.

10. For searches generally, when not otherwise provided, each book of instruments, 25 cents.

A Few Well-Tried Receipts.

TEA CAKES.—Two cups white sugar, two eggs, one cup butter, one cup buttermilk, one teaspoonful of soda, flour to roll thin. Lay each one on white sugar, then turn it over.

FIG PUDDING.—Half a pound of bread crumbs, half a pound of figs, six ounces suet, six ounces brown sugar, two eggs, a little salt, half a nutmeg; wash the figs in hot water and dry in a cloth; mince them and suet together; steam four hours.

COOKIES.—One egg, half a cup of butter, one cup sugar, one-third cup sweet milk, half a teaspoon of soda, and one of cream of tartar.

PORK CAKE.—One pound of fat pork chopped fine, two cups of sugar, two cups of raisins, two cups of currants, one cup molasses, half a teaspoon of soda; lemon peel, nutmeg, cloves and cinnamon.

GINGER SNAPS.—Put two cups molasses and one of butter in a tin pan, boil five minutes, then let it cool; dissolve two teaspoonfuls of soda in warm water and pour in; then add four teaspoonfuls of ginger and flour enough to roll; half this is enough to make at once.

THE BRANDON HOSPITAL.

If there is one public institution which more than another is deserving of support and encouragement it is certainly a general hospital. Here the unfortunate wayfarer, or the lonely bachelor who is making a home for himself, if ever taken by sickness or accident can present him self and receive that attention and relief that it would be impossible to obtain at a hotel or private house no matter how kind friends might be.

About two years ago the people of Brandon agitated for the erection of a general hospital in that city, claiming that as the centre of a very large district with several railways making it a terminus, it would suit the convenience of Central and Western Manitoba much better than Winnipeg and a circular was issued to all the Municipalities tributary, asking for assistance. The corporation of Brandon voted about $10,000.00 to the project while private citizens raised, if we recollect aright, some $6,000.00 additional. The Provincial Government also gave a large sum, and assistance is given by the Dominion Government. Nearly all the Municipalities responded liberally to the circular, and we could not but feel a sense of humiliation that two appeals to the Council of Wallace, made by members of the board of management should have met with a refusal by a majority of the Council. As one after another of our people have been obliged to seek the kindly aid of this Institution, the disgrace of the Municipality's position has evidently been felt by its Council, and we are greatly pleased to say that at its meeting last Saturday a grant of $200.00 was made without a dissenting voice. This is as it should be and though tardy will no doubt be very acceptable and we hope that it will be followed up by a liberal donation every January.

A private subscription amounting to about $100.00 was recently collected in Elkhorn by two resident ladies, to assist in procuring additional equipment, and we learn from patients who have been treated there, that every attention is shown the inmates, and the management is as good as possible. Money given to such objects is never lost and seldom missed, and to the charitably disposed, and those having a little to spare, we heartily commend the Brandon General Hospital.

CLIPPINGS FROM THE "BREEZE"

ELKHORN MUTUAL IMPROVENENT SOCIETY.

This society held its weekly meeting last night, the subject for debate was, "whether married or single life is most conducive to happiness."

Mr. Dixon, who opened the debate on the married side, thought that ill assorted marriages did not speak against his side. Unhappy marriages were always made much of, while happy people were let alone. He was cut short by the president calling time.

Mr. W. M. Cushing, who opened on the single side, objected very much to squalling babies at 3 o'clock in the morning. He was careful to disclaim any experience in that line however. He further claimed that most marriages are unhappy, and proceeded to give many bitter experiences of washing days, hard tack, etc., and finished with a rapsody of "to wed or not to wed, that's the question."

Mr. Jolliffe, seconding Mr. Dixon on married life made some very good points, he showed up single life on the prairie in such a manner that those bachelors present must have thought, was life in the present state worth living!

Mr. Mowat criticized the foregoing paper in a humorous speech, and thought that lack of funds was the curse of married life.

Mr. Dixon, in summing up for the married side, thought the single people selfish, and amid a display of intellectual fireworks, drew comparison in favor of domestic pleasures.

Cushing, in reply made a bad break, saying, that although he advocated the superior happiness of single life, still he intended some day to take pity on the fair sex.

The vote was then taken, the result being, For single life, 12. For married life, 11.

As the Reeve entered the council room the effect of "Angus"-tora taken with his breakfast was noticed particularly as he went "Crosby," the table "Joslin"-g the councillors on all sides. A more "Direful" calamity was averted by his bringing up against a "Cushing," which was luckily soft enough to let him down easy. He explained he was not as "Young" as he used to be, hence his strange actions. The clerk was instructed that the above was not to be "France"(d) in the minutes.—Elkhorn Breeze, Jan. 6, 1887

COMMUNICATIONS.

ALBERT v ALFRED.

DEAR SIR,

As there is as much variety in the world of brains as there is in the natural world, it is not surprising that the communication re "Our Erratic Prince" should be assailed by a brother quill. Yet with all due regard to your correspondent's views, I desire an opportunity of refuting some of the statements of "Justice" in your last issue. Although the original article was not intended to "defend" or "excuse" the conduct of the Prince, he statement was not in regard to "the conduct of the Prince, in preferring the enlistment of New Market to the solemn obsequies of Westminster Abbey" in particular, but to his conduct in General, yet for the sake of argument, I venture the statement that the Prince did not in any particular manner justly expose himself to censure in his particular act of non attendance at the funeral ceremonies of the Poet-Laureate, any more than Lord Salisbury, or Her Majesty, or other members of the Royal family or Government who did not attend, and were probably no better employed, and why the dismal howl of the community was raised except to create a sensation and sell the papers is not for us to say.

Certainly the conduct of Albert Edward is much of it amenable, but why his more than others who yield more influence. The statement of "Justice" that the Prince has not will power enough to guide his own actions, is a malicious travesty on the original statement. The idea aimed at is simply this, that with your correspondent's unfortunate acquaintance with the depravity of human nature, I am sadly afraid that noisy preachers and benisone editors possessing a similar convivality that characterise His Highness would not be able to evade jeopardizing their characters or exposing themselves to public censure, if exposed to the fawning, flattering gummery of court life.

Just a line in regard to the sweet singer that appears to have so enraptured "Justice." Admittedly, Lord Alfred Tennyson was a singer, and maybe a sweet singer. But this does not alter the fact that many capable critics have an exactly opposite opinion, and when doctors disagree who shall we believe. Personally beyond a few of his earliest poems, which were of a highly democratic nature, we fail to see anything especial about his writings. Their elegance of expression, and purity of diction, are notably free from the lecherous and sensuality that characterize the works of Burns and Byron, and also less fragrant with that beauty of sentiment that characterise the more refined poems of these two kings of the muses, or even than many of Alfred's contemporaries, such as Whittier, Lowell and Ruskin, and while the late laureate's life may have been fortunately free from the immorality and sensuous dissipation of the Plough Boy poets, and the illustrious Byron, their music will remain to gladden this vale of tears when his will be laid aside and the dusty sheet neglected and forgotten.

MRS. GRUNDY.

MARYFIELD

The woodwork of the bridge across the Pipestone at McIndoe's crossing, is about completed. Mr. Edmunds who has the grade work of the approach on the east side, has teams and men working at it, while the grade on the west side is being done by the settlers on that bank of the creek.

Mr. A. McCormack has made good progress of late and has so far regained strength enough to take outdoor exercise.

The bachelors of the district give a dance on Friday the 25th, to be held in the school house.

The thermometer has at last met with a chill and registered 20° below zero on Monday morning. The snow lies fully six inches deep on the west bank of the creek

Mr. G. Scott returned from Brandon on Saturday last, where he has been following his trade as carpenter and builder.

On Thursday, Nov. 10th, (Thanksgiving day,) the children of the Maryfield public school gave a very enjoyable entertainment. The large school room was very neatly decorated, and was packed with parents, friends and visitors to the doors. Between the two parts of the programme the older pupils acted as waiters and handed round refreshments in the way of tea, sandwiches, cakes, etc.,

The chair was taken by the Rev. Mr. Flatt of Fleming.

Recitation "Valedictory" M. Parlett.
Song "God bless our native land" Pupils.

A beautifully bound album was then presented to the teacher, Miss J. A. Rattray, by Bessie McIndoe, and the following address read by Audrey Parlett:

MISS RATTRAY:

On this, the eve of your departure from our midst, we wish to show in some way our appreciation of you as our teacher and friend.

The last two seasons have truly been ones of more than ordinary importance to us both as to the present and future.

You have always done your utmost for our welfare, though we have often been very trying to patience.

While wishing Heaven's best blessings to rest on you when you are removed from us, we ask of you to accept this "Album" as a slight token (not of remembrance for we know that is not needed) but we may say of love of the pupils of Maryfield school. And as your mind recalls scenes enacted here (for it will) may the pleasant ones only be recalled, and those that will cause you even the least sorrow be forever forgotten, is our prayer.

Signed on behalf of pupils,

MAY SHEARD,
E. MCINDOE,
AUDREY PARLETT.

ARCHIE ITEMS.

Messrs. G. Robson and S. Bailey with their families, and Mr. John Knox and his daughter, Miss Knox of Elkhorn, passed through here en route to the Duck Mountains, where they intend going into cattle ranching. We wish them success.

Threshing in this district is about finished.

Messrs. R. and M. Byers shot two fine deer last week.

THE FORESTERS' CONCERT.

What promises to be the best entertainment of the season will take place on Monday evening next, under the auspices of the Foresters in this town. Mr. Adelbert Knott, the renowned comedian and elocutionist will cause roars of laughter from his audience. Mr. R. Nelson Barber, the well known pianist, is himself worth going to hear. He is the late organist of All Saint's Church, Winnipeg, and St. Domingo Church, Liverpool. He has a fine tenor voice which is a rarity in Elkhorn. He also introduces the new and popular "fairy bells" an instrument fully appreciated by lovers of music.

Besides the above, Mr. and Mrs. Fitch of Virden, have condescended to help the Foresters make this entertainment full and attractive. Their names are well known in this vicinity though they have never yet performed before an Elkhorn audience. The programme prepared is an excellent one, and the mere fact that the Foresters are introducing these new artists, will no doubt, have the effect of causing a rush for tickets, which can be obtained from Mr. Broadley, hardware merchant, Elkhorn.

A CHEAP GOLD CURE.

Mrs. Wm. Carter of Chicago, writes to the Free Press as follows:—

To the Editor of the Free Press.

SIR,—So much has been written regarding the gold cure for drinkenness that we all know the great good accomplished. My husband who was a wreck for years, took treatment at an institution over three years ago and has had no desire to taste liquor since, but it cost us over $100. I had a brother-in-law, a chemist, a slave to drink but too poor to take treatment, he analyzed the medicine my husband brought home and cured himself; four of our acquaintances got the prescription and cured themselves. The following is the prescription: Electrofied gold, 15 grains; muriate of amonia, 7 1-2 grains; comp. fluid ex of cinchona, 4 grains; fluid ex. of coca, 1 1-4 ounces; nitrate of strychnia, 1 grain; glycerine, 1 1-4 ounces; distilled water, 1 1-4 ounces. Take a teaspoonful every two hours, when awake, for two or three weeks. After the second or third day there will be no desire for drink. Medicine to effect a cure will not cost more than $3.20. I think every paper should help the poor by publishing this prescription.

SALE OF SCHOOL LANDS.

NOTICE is hereby given that it is the intention of the Department of the Interior to hold a sale of School Lands in the Province of Manitoba on or about the first of January next.

The sale will be by public auction, and will be held in the cities of Winnipeg and Brandon, and at such other convenient points as may hereafter be decided upon.

Due notice will be given prior to the sale of the dates and places at which it is to be held, and complete lists of the lands will be furnished.

In the meantime preliminary lists which will be subject to alteration from time to time as the reports of the School Lands Inspectors are received, both as regards the parcels to be sold and the upset prices may be had on application to the Secretary, Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, Winnipeg.

As the public does not appear to be fully aware that the Department of the Interior, being charged with the administration of these lands, is bound to take every possible means to prevent their illegal occupation, it is considered to be necessary to publish this intimation of the fact, and to make it known as widely as possible that action of law will be instituted after the auction sale hereinbefore mentioned against all persons who may assume to occupy or cultivate the lands or any portion thereof.

The lands in question will be offered for sale, without regard to any improvements which may be alleged to exist thereon, the value of which will in no case be secured to the person at whose cost the said improvements may be alleged to have been affected.

TOWN TALK.

"They are the abstract and brief chronicles of the time." Hamlet, Act II. Scene 2.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 24th 1892.

Foresters concert next Monday.

Mrs. J. K. Stevenson was visiting friends in town this week.

Mr. J. M. Little started for the old country on Friday last.

If you don't see what you want at the hardware store, ask for it.

Mr. T. D. Cavanagh left on Friday morning for his old home in Ontario.

Mr. Stableford of Lippentott, called at our office on Friday last.

Skates, Skates, Skates for sale at J. Broadley's.

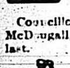
R. Farrell, travelling passenger agent, C. P. R., was in town on Friday.

Mr. J. F. Watkins of the Virden Chronicle, spent Sunday in town.

Lamps of all descriptions for sale at the Hardware store.

Mr. Cunningham, a Bible agent, was in town a few days this week.

Councillor Joslyn and sec.-treas., A. G. McDougall, paid us a call on Saturday last.



Watches and clocks for — at R. M. Coombs & Co's.

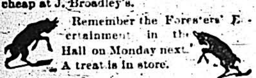
The annual school meeting will take place in the new school house on Monday, Dec. 5th, at 10 o'clock.

The nomination for councillors for this Municipality will take place on the 1st Dec., at Broadley's hall.

The Rev. W. Penman is away at Winnipeg attending the Presbyterian synod, which is assembled there.

Don't fail to hear Mr. and Mrs. Fitch, Mr. Dell Knott and Mr. Nelson Barber, at the Foresters' concert next Monday.

Buy your wife a Wringer and Washing Machine, we have some dandys for sale cheap at J. Broadley's.



Remember the Foresters' Entertainment in the Hall on Monday next. A treat is in store.

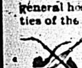
Childrens Sleighs, Express Waggons, Rocking Horses, Building Blocks, and Toys in stock at Broadley's Hardware Store.

Since Mr. Aspinwall's illness, we have heard no more about those assemblies which were to take place this winter in Elkhorn.

After an absence of three weeks, the pony belonging to Mr. Jas. Douglas, was found about 20 miles south of Cannington.

Buy only American Coal Oil. American Coal Oil don't freeze in your lamps. American Coal Oil is the best. For sale at J. Broadley's.

At the suggestion of the Reeve, the Municipality has passed a resolution granting the sum of $200 to the Brandon general hospital, to be used as the authorities of the hospital see fit.

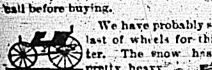


Pipes of all sorts, sizes, shapes, quality and prices at Coombs & Co's store.

The Council for the Municipality of Wallace held its usual meeting on Saturday last, in the Foresters' hall, Elkhorn. Reeve Cushing in the chair. All the members were present.

Rev. T. M. Talbot preached in the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening last to a large congregation. This was his fourth service after 11 a.m., and he had also driven twenty miles. Not a bad Sunday's record.

Read Cushing's advertisement in another column. He is selling excursion tickets to Ontario and all points east, over the Northern Pacific Railway, via St. Paul, Minneapolis, Chicago, &c. Give him a call before buying.



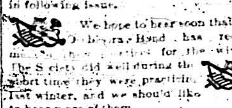
We have probably seen the last of wheels for this winter. The snow has fallen pretty heavy during the last week and there is very fair sleighing.

If the individual who borrowed the shovel on Friday evening last from its position against Broadley's hardware store, would kindly remember to return it when done with, it would probably save Mr. Angus a journey.

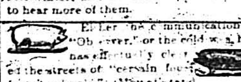
The meeting of the License Commissioners will take place at Brandon on the 2nd of December. Two cases will be brought under their notice, namely, those of O. R. Jones, Grand Central Hotel, Elkhorn, and Jno. Cawlin, Royal Hotel, Griswold.

In his sermon on Sunday evening, Mr Talbot made the following remark: If all the heathens in the world were to march four abreast past a given point, it would take eight years before the last four passed by, and in single file they would never pass, because of the natural increase in the population.

Merchants and others are particularly requested to see that their changes of advertisements are handed in to us not later than Tuesday midday for insertion in following issue.



We hope to hear soon that the Orchestral Band has recommenced practice for the winter. The Society did well during the short time they were practicing last winter, and we should like to hear more of them.



Either one communication or "Ob server," or the cold wave, has effectually cleared the streets of "certain four-footed animals," (Mowat's and all,) that when last seen looked somewhat like these.

A very successful gathering of members of the P. L. A. S., and their friends was held in Broadley's hall, on Friday last. No end of good things were provided. After the fragments had been gathered up numerous parlor games were introduced to the enjoyment of the company.

We are exceedingly pleased to see Mr. Robt. Marsh once more at home. He is looking much stronger than he did before his illness, and except for a lame leg he is as well as ever. Mr. Marsh speaks well of the care he received and the management of the Brandon hospital.

The boys are asking us whether we have heard any word of oysters this season. In reply we say that we understand that a full supply of these bivalves will be on hand on Saturday. See new ad.

We have now some excellent Plated Goods in stock, such as Cruets, Pickle Jars, Teapots, Butter Coolers, Napkin Rings, Knives and Forks, Fish Knives, etc., just what you want for Holiday Presents. Prices Right, at Broadley's Hardware.

A Turkey Raffle will take place at the Cavanagh Hotel in a day or two. Now is the chance to see if you are lucky enough to get your Christmas dinner for ten cents, but don't blame anyone but yourself if you only get left.

The Elkhorn restaurant has again [illegible] hands. On Tuesday the 15th [illegible] the [illegible] and family. The business was conducted under this new management until the following Friday morning when the proprietoress once more handled the reins of management.

We are pleased to note that the name of Mr. John McTurk of Elkhorn, has been suggested to the Hon. Thos Greenway by Manitoba Cattle Breeders' Association, as one of four suitable judges of beef for the exhibit of live stock at the Columbian exhibition of next year.

A petition was brought before the Council on Saturday asking for a sufficient sum of money for improving the road down to the Pipestone creek, at a point near Lippentott, where the N. W. Council have just finished the erection of a $350.00 bridge. The matter was referred to the Public Works Committee, and the petitioners were promised that a sum would be granted for the purpose named, next spring.

Mr. W. M. Cushing has been appointed an agent for the Northern Pacific Railway, and is prepared to quote rates to all points.

Eastern excursions commence Nov. 28th, and people taking advantage of these should secure a ticket via. Chicago and visit the World's Fair buildings. See advertisement in another column.

This is not a Prairie Chicken, but it is as much like that bird as that produced in the register at the Cavanagh Hotel by the Pure Gold artist; and besides that, the bird that Hoy shot on Monday last was so near to the muzzle of the gun that when he (Hoy) "let it (the gun) off" and they (Donaldson and the Pure Gold man) carried it (the bird) home there was no telling whether the poor thing had been a partridge, a plover, a prairie chicken, or an old rooster.

The following, though a week old is too amusing to be omitted, though it was somewhat hard on the parties concerned. A week ago last Monday morning, Mr. Hume's two boys, as is their custom, were aboard the train selling coffee and milk to the passengers, and either because they were doing so much business that they had not time to slight from the train, or became oblivious to the fact that the train was on the move, is not recorded, but anyway they were taken through to Virden, where they had the pleasure of remaining until one o'clock the following morning, when they returned apparently none the worse for their adventure, and received a practical illustration of the fact that time tide and trains wait for no man.

The Recording Secretary of a certain court of Foresters, in conjunction with one of Ogilvie's employees, got hold of a small packing case, intending to fasten it up, and forward it "per express C. O. D." to one of the grain buyers of this town, when the intended recipient got wind of the matter and spoiled the fun. Needless to say the box did not contain a Thanksgiving turkey. What it did contain is not written in the book of the chronicles of the grain market. The before mentioned buyer, thinking the intended joke a good one, so long as it was not practiced upon himself, finished the packing of the case and having neatly covered the whole with brown paper supplied by a hardware merchant, "expressed" the "turkey" to the originator of the joke, C. O. D. The agent delivered the goods into the hands of the assignee, but unfortunately did not collect the fee before the elevator employee had torn a piece of brown paper off the parcel, and recognized his own handiwork. The tricksters on all sides were tricked, and any one can have the "Thanksgiving turkey" for the price of the packing case, the brown paper and the string.

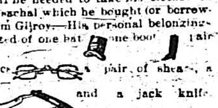
Watches and Clocks mended, cleaned and repaired at R. M. Coombs & Co's.

The usual winter excursions to the east begin from Elkhorn station on Nov. 28th. The fair will be $42.00 to points in Quebec and Ontario, and particulars as to rates for Maritime provinces, can be obtained from the Company's agent, C. F. Travis.

A very enjoyable evening was spent by many of our townspeople on Thursday last, the occasion being a double presentation to Mr. T. D. Cavanagh and Mr. J. M. Little, upon their leaving the town for some time. After the presentation had taken place at the Cavanagh hotel, the whole party adjourned to Rogers & Douglas' store, where a sumptuous banquet was served upon the counters for all. When the pangs of hunger and thirst had been satisfied, songs, recitations and step dances were given by some of the guests, and the party dispersed after a very enjoyable evening.

When Mr. T. D. Cavanagh left for the east, all he needed to take his clothes in was a sachel which he bought (or borrowed) from Gilroy. His personal belongings consisted of one hat, one boot, pair of specs, a pair of shears, a razor and a jack knife. When he returns he will bring so many Christmas presents for us all that he will require a trunk like this one.



It is always the same when a resident of Elkhorn leaves the town he is sure to return within six months, so say the Elks, and so it seems, for Mr. Glass who came to Elkhorn last spring has been away most of the summer, but like the snow bird he has come back for the winter, and as if he was particularly enamoured with the country he has brought his father with him. A report was circulated that he had bought Mr. Vodd[?]'s house with the intention of taking immediate possession, but subsequent reports assert that the deal is off, so we are not able definitely to say.

W. C. Coup, one of P. T. Barnum's partners, is about to establish in Chicago a permanent circus which will represent an investment of $1,000,000 and present new attractions in the hippodrome line. The new circus, it is said, to be organized with Adam Forepaugh, jr., and James A. Hutchinson, also one of Barnum's partners. Mr. Hutchinson, who, it is said will furnish the money, is in New York, and Adam Forepaugh, jr., is in Philadelphia. It is said that Mr. Coup will manage the new enterprise, while Mr. Forepaugh will have charge of the menagerie features. The new permanent circus will have a building to cost $100,000, which will be fitted up similar to a theatre, with a ring in the front of the seats that will sink ten feet below the surface of the auditorium.—Free Press.

Notwithstanding the fiasco of the law proceedings last week, it is time something was done to suppress the pilfering habits of some of the inhabitants. It is scarcely safe to have anything around at night that is movable. Several complaints have frequently reached our office at the mysterious disappearance of things, especially timber. A large quantity of lumber seems to have taken a midnight ramble from the school house, and did not return, evidently having been destroyed by prairie fires. Also a pile of this combustible material disappeared from the Lake of the Woods elevator a short time ago, and has not been heard of since. Though the accused were fortunately acquitted, yet we trust that it will be a warning to the guilty who may learn what the law is able to do to the guilty ones.

OPENING OF THE NEW PUBLIC SCHOOL.

CHILDREN'S ENTERTAINMENT.

At last the new school house is completed, and forgetting its slow growth we must congratulate the trustees on the new and commodious "halls of learning" that stands as a monument to the development of the town and the enterprise and increase of the people. Standing secluded on the north side of the town and not inconveniently situated either for the town or the children, it is a fine well constructed stone building.

Its internal arrangements are excellently adapted to the requirements of the children. It contains two excellent well ventilated, well heated rooms, with plenty of light. The building is heated by a furnace fed by coal, which affords all the heat and comfort necessary. The interior work is well finished with stained and varnished pine, which reflects credit not only on the town, but also on the builders. Although the new building has been occupied during the last week, it was not formally opened until Monday evening last, and in celebration of the occasion a musical entertainment was given by the whole school, under the tuition and leadership of Mr. T. S. F. Taylor, their respected tutor. The entertainment was of a moral character, and assumed the form of an operetta, and is known as the "musical aesop." The "musical aesop" is a series of songs and recitations, interspersed with connective readings which were read by Mr. R. S. Mowat, the late school secretary. Several of the children rendered in a very creditable manner recitations chiefly from Aesop's fables. The whole performance reflects great credit and painstaking upon the part of the teacher, and the pieces were well received, especially the "burlesque band" which was enthusiastically encored. After the entertainment, Mr. W. M. Cushing, our popular reeve who presided during the entertainment, called upon the members of the school board to make any statement they desired relative to the work of the school.

The late school secretary, Mr. Mowat, was the first called upon, and many of his remarks were well directed. He strongly urged the ratepayers to take more interest in their school district, and to help the trustees by attending the school meetings.

Mr. John Freeman congratulated the town on its progress, and anticipated that the new school house would in a few years become as crowded as the one just vacated.

Rev. R. G. Stevenson, Dr. Rolsten and the Secretary-Treas. made a few remarks concluding with a vote of thanks to Mr. Taylor for the entertainment provided, and to Mr. Cushing for the able manner in which he had presided.

At the close of the entertainment a collection amounting to over $20, was taken up for the purpose of providing wall pictures, etc., and the national anthem terminated another red letter day in the history of Elkhorn.

ENGLAND REFUSES TO EXTEND THE TIME FOR SCHEDULING OUR CATTLE.

The British Board of Agriculture Advises Sir Charles Tupper to the Above Effect, but Cattle now Leaving Canada Will "Be Dealt With Considerately"—Even if Arriving Later Than the 21st—A Cablegram From the High Commissioner.

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—On Saturday Hon. Mr Carling, Minister of Agriculture, received from Sir Charles Tupper, the High Commissioner in London, a cablegram to this effect: "Board, after full consideration, find themselves unable to agree to extension of order, but say individual cases of any ships that might reasonably be expected to arrive before 21st coming in after that date, will be dealt with considerately."

The "board" referred to is the Imperial Board of Agriculture, and the message is the official reply to the representations Hon. Mr. Carling made several days ago, at the request of certain cattle shippers for an extension of time with respect to the date of scheduling Canadian cattle from the 21st inst. in England to the 21st inst. in Canada. This was requested in order to allow contracts made to be fulfilled and to prevent the possibility of danger of any animals which might be shipped and which might be hindered from arriving within the specified time by stress of weather from being scheduled on arrival. The reply is on the whole favorable, and it is thought that cattle leaving Montreal as late as to-day will be allowed to enter Britain under the old order, even though they be landed after the 21st.

MISREPRESENTED THE FARM

And the Purchaser Recovered $2,400 Damages.

TORONTO, Nov. 14.—Saturday Mr. Justice MacMahon was engaged at the Assizes in hearing the evidence in the suit for damages brought by George Baker against J. J. Beemer, whom the plaintiff charges with fraud in a deal by which he conveyed to the defendant valuable city property in exchange for a farm of 400 acres in the Township of Tossorontio, County of Simcoe. The plaintiff says that the farm was represented to him to be worth $7,000, while, in fact, it is valueless, being situated on the Pine Plains, a barren, sandy tract. The defence was that there was no misrepresentation, that Baker was taken to see the property, and that the land is of fair quality. The claim is also made that the town property is not now worth the value set upon it last winter when the transaction took place. After four hours' deliberation the jury rendered a verdict for plaintiff, assessing the damages at $2,400, of which $1,600 is to be applied on a mortgage of $3,000 which is against the farm.

The Shooting Was Justified.

TORONTO, Nov. 14.—An inquest was held Saturday morning on the body of Wm. Tickner, the soldier victim of the Widmer street fatality of Thursday. The jury brought in this verdict: We find that on the 10th day of November, 1892, Archibald Campbell did shoot William Tickner, the said shot causing death, and we further find that the said Campbell was justified in shooting the said Tickner. The police constable was therefore discharged from custody by the coroner.

County Crown Attorney Curry states that, as a matter of form, the case would be laid before the grand jury at the next Assize Court, so that the matter may be investigated thoroughly. No steps will be taken, however, until the court meets.

Relics of Queenston Heights.

THOROLD, Nov. 14.—The scoop shovels of the men who have the contract for excavating the bed of the electric railway down the historic Queenston Heights have unearthed the knapsack of a soldier in good preservation. It was covered with deer-skin, and within was part of a soldier's supplies in clothing and some documents, almost illegible, but which may be deciphered by experts, as the words 1812 are plain.

After a Trade in Dead Meat.

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—Senator Cochrane is here endeavoring to establish a trade in dressed beef between Calgary and the East. Already several shipments have been made in refrigerator cars with great success, and the Senator is confident of great development in the trade. He thinks the scheduling of Canadian cattle by England will result in great benefit to Canada, and that the privilege of landing live cattle at Liverpool has no advantage.

Hamilton Wants Natural Gas.

HAMILTON, Nov. 14.—A meeting of the shareholders of the Hamilton Natural Gas and Mining company was held Saturday evening, when T. H. Pratt was elected president. A number of professional natural gas men are in the city interviewing President Pratt, and it is likely the contracts will be let at an early date.

The Industrial Home is Crowded.

HAMILTON, Nov. 14.—A week ago Justice Cahill sentenced Herbert Yates, a bad boy, to twelve months in the Industrial Home at Mimico, but he has not been sent there yet. The lad is still in the county jail, and will have to remain there until there is room for him in the Home, which at present is crowded.

The Suspended Accountants.

OTTAWA, Nov. 14.—Inquiry at the department to-day elicited little information concerning the suspension of Messrs. Brewer and Bolton. Their prospects for reinstatement do not improve as the investigation of the books proceeds, and it is hard to tell what the total discrepancy will be. Brewer was very popular.

A Journalist Hangs Himself.

MONTREAL, Nov. 14.—William Jones, a translator in La Minerve office, yesterday committed suicide by hanging. Deceased was about 60 years of age and belonged to a respectable family in the lower part of the Province.

A Petition For Slavin.

CORNWALL, Nov. 14.—A petition is being circulated for the reprieve of James Slavin, who was sentenced at the fall assizes to be hanged on Dec. 16 for the murder of John R. Davey.

It is reported that Grand Master Powderly will resign the position he now holds and recommend as his successor A. W. Wright, the general lecturer of the order.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

VARIOUS STYLES OF AUTUMN AND WINTER GARMENTS.

Items of Particular Interest to Our Feminine Readers.

NEW YORK (Special).

STYLE in outer garments for winter is various. Capes are much prettier than jackets when worn over a fashionable gown. I noticed the hideous effect of a full-dress sleeve squeezed into a jacket, which although of the latest cut and with amply wide sleeves looked positively grotesque and quite spoilt the pretty figure of the wearer. A cape like the one in the initial picture would have been better.

It is for their street toilets, however, that my feminine readers will care most for information. So I devote two sketches to fur-trimmed, full length cloaks in the latest fashionable shapes. It is a treat on a cold day to walk down Fifth avenue and note the lovely things in outer garments. The handsomest mantles are of black silk plush or rich velvet, made up with silk passementerie or fur. Sometimes all these materials are used together, as in the case illustrated. The lady there shown was on her way to a matinee, and her whole toilet may be regarded as correct for street purposes. One figure in the next picture is in a long tight-fitting coat of dark blue cloth, lined throughout with sable mink and trimmed very handsomely with a deep collar and wide cuffs of dark Russian sable. The other is a very effective cape, made in quite a new material, a kind of navy serge, with a shaded stripe of red and green chenille. It is cut in three-quarter length, and edged throughout with black fox fur. Warmly lined with quilted shot silk this will make a delightful winter cloak.

Little girls are their mother's dolls, to be dressed elaborately and often fantastically. A walk in Central park reveals the usual series of nursemaids and governesses airing their infant charges, or vigilantly watching over the more dangerous age, when one pair of eyes seems scarce sufficient to be up to the myriad moves of the mischief-loving imps clad in Greenawa bonnets or man-o'-war caps, not to mention knickers or the long-skirted Dutch dresses that give such a picturesque appearance to the curled darlings of the fashionable mother's heart. Elderly ladies do not in general approve of the quaint, long-skirted fashion of dressing tiny girls, and I have heard more than one grandmamma declare that it "cannot possibly be healthy." Still nothing proves that children of bygone centuries were weaker than those of to-day, and during mediaeval times youngsters were clad in ground-sweeping petticoats; accordingly there is little to say against the quaint old-time fashion of clothing the bairns, otherwise than it is perhaps a trifle warmer than needs be during the summer months. On the other hand, when rude Boreas begins to tune his organ pipes, the long skirts, edged with velvet or fur, are a perfect protection for the fragile little limbs. It is all very well for some parents to say that short petticoats and naked legs and arms harden and improve, and in later years produce lusty men and women. In some it may, but who can tell the amount of babies in which the germs of lung disease and other evils, to say nothing of the archfiend rheumatism, have been sown in infancy, thanks to the absurd idea of hardening children by letting them run about only partially garbed?

New York children of the rich this autumn are dressed in warm pelisses, made with full sleeves shirred into narrow wristbands, and having over the shoulders a little cape or collet outlined with fur. The favorite headgear appears to be soft, long-haired felt hats, trimmed with windmill sail bows of Tartan ribbon, velvet or satin antique or moleskin plush. Some of them are tied under the chin in a funny little coquettish bow. Dark green cloth seems to be a favorite color and material for little girls, while the boys still appear in the true blue dear to the hearts of the jolly Jack Tars.

An indoor toilet for a girl of twelve or so is shown in one of my sketches. In the original garment the dress is dark blue velvet, with a light blue pattern on it. The jabot is light gauze with the revers colored faille or ottoman. The back of this dress is made in plain folds lying one over the other, and fastened in the middle. The front pleat is only slightly gored in the center and the side pieces are only to be gored in the part that turns toward the back. If the width of the material allows it, the side breadths can be cut at the same time as the front pleats, only in cutting the dress care must be taken that it is not too scanty above or on the top, other wise it is apt to make a bunch on the sides. The lining of the coat is satin, and at the bottom it has an inner flounce of similar material. The placket-hole is on the left side. Underneath this must be placed a broad band of material over which it is hooked, and over which in addition falls a broad silk bow. The pocket is on the right-hand side. The jacket has a double front, the underneath part of which fitting to the form is closed with bone buttons, or any other kind which are in fashion in the shape of a vest. That is to say, it is made in such a form that a pointed plastron can be formed of the light blue faille on which the jabot lies. This overlying vest of faille is closed with very small hooks which are concealed by the folds of material. The jabot is laid on separately, and of material that is folded and fastened over on the side. The back part of the jacket lies underneath the fastening of the material. The upper part in front is cut short and added on in the shape of a round cape, which is lined with some dark material. Both of the front parts of the cape are joined to the back breadths, the sleeves, which are made of straight pieces of material, being lined with any material that is convenient, and this is cut slopingly on the under side and covered with velvet. This is placed flat on the lining and sewn together with it. The puffed sleeves fall over bands of faille in such a manner that it looks as though the folds themselves were made of faille. The under sleeves are white.

Mothers, if you can afford it, let your daughters give a juvenile party this winter. It is a fatigue to the hostess, but it is a real joy to the tiny guests as well as to the children of the house. The little ones talk about their parties for weeks before it comes off, and their joy is redoubled if they are allowed to have a hand in the sending out of the invitations. If done in a pretentious way, the invitations are generally sent out in the name of the children, and the prettiest long notepaper is employed for the purpose, or the daintiest of "At home" cards, with a colored picture at one corner. The guests arrive punctually at a children's afternoon party, and the little ones are given tea at a long table, the daughters of the house and the governess or nursemaid pouring out tea and coffee at either end. The table is covered with plates of bread and butter and various kinds of cakes and sweets, and cracker bonbons are placed beside the plates. The children dance or play games while their elders are at tea. At parties given during the Christmas holidays a distribution of presents occupies an important place in the programme, and they are generally given away at the end of the evening in some pretty and novel fashion. Light refreshments are given in the dining-room before the children take leave—lemonade, cakes, sandwiches and crystalized fruits being the usual refreshment given. Cracker bonbons should not be forgotten, the explosive crackers being to the little ones what champagne is to their elders, causing the shyest natures to unbend under their inspiriting influence.

IS YOUR HOME COSY?

It May be Elegant, But is it Comfortable?

There are many so-called homes that do not deserve the name at all. Home means comfort, but when we have it fixed up so elaborately that we must either sit in the garret or the back yard to genuinely enjoy ourselves then it is high time we made a change and turned out the too-good-to-use articles and substitute for them real homely things that we could enjoy every day of the year and every moment of the day.

Men, like a pretty home-maker, no mistake there. They can appreciate beauty as well as the next one, but they want that beauty to be of an order that appeals to their sense of home comfort. Of what good are cushions so elaborately embroidered that no head can ever repose on them? What sense is there in easy chairs of such rich material that they are quite the reverse of the name given them?

Is there any satisfaction in a room the furnishings of which cost hundreds of dollars, when it is only open at rare intervals, while the owner, perhaps, sits by the kitchen fire or in some dingy sitting-room, where he can smoke if he wants to, put his feet on the fender, and as a great indulgence tilt back in his chair?

Let the sunshine into the gloomy rooms, have a couch to lie on, a piano to play on, in fact, a home to live in; one wherein a sense of hospitality and good cheer exudes from the very tables and chairs, instead of a mausoleum of gloomy elegance, wherein everything is for show and nothing to be used.—Philadelphia Times.

TORONTO, Nov. 15.—John Stinson, aged eighteen, died under peculiar circumstances to-day. He had been in ill health for some time and was found dead in bed this morning. A post mortem examination this afternoon showed that death resulted from carbolic acid and it is supposed that he took his own life.

Personal Appearance.

Every child should be taught that personal appearance is of great importance and that personal perfection is second only to a healthy moral and intellectual development. Indeed, it is held as a theory by many persons that perfect mental attributes are coexistent only with physical perfection.

Just why people should expend no end of time and money on the rearing of horses and cattle, taking every precaution that their development is symmetrical and harmonious, and apparently feeling no interest in what their own children are to be, is a question that philosophers might well take up and study. Evidently there is something wrong somewhere, and the sooner the error is discovered and bred out of the human family the better it will be for the future of the human race.

Sulphur for Moths.

For two years a correspondent has used to her great satisfaction a plan that not only killed the live Buffalo and common moths, but prevented the eggs from hatching. She opened all drawers and closets, and burned sulphur in the rooms as you would to fumigate them, letting them remain closed over night. While burning, the smell is as of the bottomless pit, but the odor remaining afterwards is most wholesome, and for me, better than any plan I have heard of.

Women in Bohemia.

In Bohemia there are 160 societies and clubs which have for their object the advancement of the cause of women. A great deal is done in this way to procure for the women of Bohemia better employment and greater independence.

WINNIPEG.

The community was very much surprised to hear of the death of Mr. John Thom, manager of A. C. Macpherson & Co., fruiters, on Wednesday morning. After spending the evening at a friend's, Mr. Thom visited the store, evidently to see that all was well. There he must have dropped dead, his body being found in the office next morning. Appoplexy carried him off. The funeral took place to the C. P. R. depot on Wednesday afternoon and was largely attended. The corpse was taken to Port Union, Ont., for interment.

Advices from Kin Kiang, China, state that during an uprising 150 miles inland from there, several native Christians had been killed and the mission property destroyed. The news is thought to refer to the troubles at Klenning, in Foo Chop province. At the time of the dispatch the full particulars had not arrived, and the actual extent of the destruction of property and number killed was not known, but it is to be hoped that it may turn out less than first stated.

Mr. F. W. Jones, of General Superintendent Whyte's department of the C. P. R., was the recipient of a very handsome silver service, recently, on the occasion of his marriage, from his friends and associates, accompanied by an address of congratulation, expressing kind regards, with health and prosperity for himself and his happy bride in their wedded life.

PATENT VENTILATED CLOSET.

Awarded Diploma at Winnipeg Industrial Exhibition.

You can have all the comfort and convenience of the most elaborate water closet, without the deadly sewer gas, by using one of our patent ventilated closets; the price brings it within the reach of all, can be placed in any room having a stove-pipe passing through it, or having an ordinary chimney hole; perfectly healthy, and ABSOLUTELY ODORLESS; endorsed by the medical profession; a boon to women and children.

Our standard closet is manufactured of hard wood, panelled and beautifully finished in antique, with galvanized iron buckets which do not corrode, necessary piping, elbows and thimble all ready to set up. Shipped to any address in the Province or Territories upon receipt of price, $12.00, by writing the MANITOBA VENTILATED CLOSET CO., Box 437, Winnipeg.

No charge for crating or packing.

EVERY CLOSET GUARANTEED.
